NSW Food Authority ABN 47 080 404 416 PO Box 232 TAREE NSW 2430

Certain food businesses are required to hold a NSW Food Authority licence to operate. Businesses that operate without the appropriate licence from the NSW Food Authority are committing an offence under the Food Act 2003 and may be prosecuted.

Did you know ... if you are applying to licence a business and do not hold a current NSW Food Authority licence, you can now lodge your application online by going to the online application form link at www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au (Please note: conditions apply for use of online applications).

Plant products businesses that need to be licensed

Under the Food Regulation 2015, food businesses must have a NSW Food Authority licence if they prepare or store plants products as defined under Clause 120 of the Plant Products Food Safety Scheme (Part 10 of the Regulation) and defined as a "Plant products business" under Clause 124 and perform any of the following:

- the extraction of juice from vegetables or fruits without pasteurizing the juice (excluding retail operations)
- the processing of seed sprouts, fruits or vegetables to produce plant products, including (but not limited to) cutting, peeling, preserving and cooking
- the storage of plant products
- the packaging of plant products
- the production (including packaging) of vegetables in oil
- the refrigerated transport or distribution of plant products – If licensing is required for a vehicle to transport plant products please complete application form Application for food transport business for dairy/meat/plant products/seafood

Those businesses not involved in any of these activities, or where they fall within the exception provided under clause 122 (for example, retail operations, or where it is clear that the plant product will be processed and converted by pasteurisation) do not require a NSW Food Authority licence.

Licensing under this Regulation is used to ensure that a business has the capacity to produce safe food before the food is supplied to the market. A licence is not transferable from one person or business to another.

What do I need to comply with?

Any businesses that hold a licence must comply with the following:

- Food Regulation 2015 (NSW)
- Food Act 2003 (NSW)
- Food Standards Code
- Development and implementation of an adequate food safety program under the Food Regulation 2015 based on Standard 3.2.1 of the Food Standards Code or Codex HACCP (with the exception of businesses solely storing or transporting these products). The program must accurately outline the hazards associated with the food business' operations. Assistance material is available from the NSW Food Authority's web site at www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au. Where a Food Safety Program is required for businesses under the legislation, failure to have a Food Safety Program available for review at the compliance inspection may result in the non issue of licence to operate.

What do I need to do next?

- Complete the licence application form and return it with payment to: NSW Food Authority, PO Box 232, Taree NSW 2430.
- You must not commence operations until the above steps have been completed and you are informed that your licence application has been processed. If the premises is found to be operating without a licence, enforcement action will be taken.
- Prior to the approval of a licence, a licensing assessment will be carried out to ensure compliance with the Food Standards Code and Food Regulation 2015. If the result of the assessment is unacceptable, the licence may not be approved and the licence application may be rejected. It is highly recommended the applicant refer to the Authority's website for information relating to the assessment process and industry sector requirements.

Processing times

The Authority will review your application within 10 working days of receiving your licence application and you will be notified if any further information is required. If your application is complete the Authority will write to you to let you know your licence application has been processed and provide you with a time frame for completion of the licensing assessment that is required.

IMPORTANT NOTES

- If you have more than one premises, copy page 4 and complete for each premises. If the application forms are submitted at the same time only one application fee will be required.
- Please ensure that each page of the application is completed (where applicable) and checked before it is returned as failure to provide all information or signature(s) will delay processing and issuing of the licence.
- For more information or assistance please contact the NSW Food Authority's Licensing Unit on 02 6552 3000 or go to the NSW Food Authority website at <http://www.foodauthority.nsw.gov.au/industry/food-standards-and-requirements/licensing>

CALCULATING LICENCE FEES

The licence fee applied to your business is calculated based on the number of full time equivalent (FTE) food handlers involved in food handling. The number of FTE food handlers is used as it also accommodates businesses who use part time food handlers in their operations. For the purposes of this calculation, a FTE working week is 38 hours.

To calculate the number of FTE food handlers your business has, add up all the hours that the food handlers are undertaking food handling activities during a working week and divide by 38 hours (average working week). For example, if a facility had 4 food handlers to handle food for 25 hours per week, this would equate to approximately 3 FTE food handlers.

$$\frac{4 \text{ food handlers} \times 25 \text{ hours per week}}{38 \text{ hours}} = 2.6 \text{ FTE food handlers (round up to 3 FTE food handlers)}$$
